

Personal

Name: Gerald Kircheis
Date of Birth: 13.09.1957 in Teutschenthal, Germany

Degrees, Diplomas, past and present positions

1976-1982	Study of Medicine at Martin-Luther-University Halle-Wittenberg, Diploma of the Medical School and Approbation as physician at Martin-Luther-University Halle-Wittenberg
1981-1985	Dissertation at Biochemical Institute (Medical Faculty) of Martin-Luther-University Halle-Wittenberg
1981-1987	Postgraduate specialisation in General Internal Medicine and full accreditation as "Specialist in General Internal Medicine" at Martin-Luther-University Halle-Wittenberg
1987-1991	Postgraduate specialisation in Gastroenterology and Hepatology at the Department of Hepatology / Gastroenterology and Endoscopy at Martin-Luther-University Halle-Wittenberg
1991-1998	Senior Clinical Research Physician and Head of the Department of Clinical Research (Hepatology/ Gastroenterology / Metabolism Research Unit) at Merz+Co. GmbH, Frankfurt, Germany
1998-2009	Specialist of Internal Medicine in the Department of Gastroenterology, Hepatology and Infectious Diseases at Heinrich-Heine-University Düsseldorf
2001-2012	Partial Project Leader C4 in SFB 575 „Experimental Hepatology“
2010-2017	Consultant, Department of Gastroenterology, Hepatology, and Infectious Diseases at Heinrich-Heine-University Düsseldorf (Direktor: Prof. Dr. D. Häussinger)
Since 2017	Consultant, Department of Gastroenterology and Diabetology at Theodor Fontane Medical University Brandenburg an der Havel (Direktor: Prof. Dr. S. Lüth)