

Dr. Anil Arora completed all his academic studies of MBBS, DNB (MED), MD (MED), DM (GASTRO) from prestigious AIIMS. He Subsequently obtained his LIVER TRANSPLANTATION fellowship from QUEEN ELIZABETH hospital BIRMINGHAM in 1999 and was awarded FELLOWSHIP of Royal college of physicians of EDINBURGH, FRCP(EDINBURGH) in 2004 and FELLOWSHIP of Royal college of physicians of London, FRCP (London) in 2014. At present he is the Director of Institute of liver gastroenterology and pancreaticobiliary sciences at Sir Ganga Ram Hospital which is one of the premier academic institutions of the country. Besides providing a high standard of clinical care to the patients he has been regularly writing the scientific articles in national and international journals leading to over 150 publications in the indexed medical journals besides authoring a number of book chapters. He is a very skilled endoscopist regularly performing ERCPS and all types of therapeutic endoscopic procedures. He has a great interest in study of viral hepatitis and is well known for his expertise in treating chronic hepatitis B and C infection, stem cell therapy in liver diseases and liver transplantation. He keeps himself updated with latest trends in medicine with an enquiring and inquisitive mind.